MAY MEMBERSHIP MEETING

Hosted by The Roofing Contractors Association of Southern California & International Institute of Building Enclosure Consultants

Join Us For a Terrific Presentation From Special Guest Jared Ribble

Jared serves the National Roofing Contractors Association as the organizer and lead instructor for its groundbreaking Qualified Trainer Conference. Additionally, he holds the position of Vice President of Certification for NRCA, leading the development and growth of ProCertification®

In this enlightening session, we delve into the crucial question: How can we amplify the presence of quality workmanship while minimizing instances of substandard installations?

Discover actionable steps to set apart our industry's talented installers, and how we can attract the next generation of roofing talent.

This presentation offers a departure from traditional discussions centered around new roofing technologies or technical calculations. Instead, we'll engage in a dynamic dialogue focused on addressing the industry's most pressing challenges. Be part of this informative journey as we collectively pave the way towards a future marked by excellence and reliability in roofing installations.
